FOUND FOOTAGE FROM THE FUTURE

WARD

When young Beatrice wakes up in a white cell, she has no recollection of any memory leading up to this event. She is interrogated by Dr. Zaidra about a murder that Beatrice apparently committed.

As we see the murder shown through surveillance footage, we understand that Beatrice was a clone, killing another clone.

The clones are hooked up in a huge system called the Tidal Wave System. This computer system uses the clones' brains to get enough computer power to send messages - back in time!

When Beatrice got conscious, she understood that the system was used by the evil owners for financial gain.

They had used the system to send back investment data to themselves, creating the world's worst economic crisis, which we today live in.

When Beatrice explain this to Dr. Zaidra, she decides to join Beatrice in trying to destroy the Tidal Wave System, but it is too late - the CEO of the company already knows what they are up to.

We can only watch how the future plays out in front of us, from real apprehended surveillance footage posted online - from the future!
